

Role description: Conservation Cleaner

Area: Working with the cleaning team

Role title:	Conservation Cleaner
Project description:	To help conserve the historic house and its collections through conservation cleaning
Project manager:	Miranda Prescott
Project supervisor (if different):	Pete Harvey
Where:	Russell-Cotes Art Gallery & Museum
When:	Mondays (except Bank Holidays)
Commitment:	X2 Mondays per month
Duration:	Ongoing
Requirements: (skills etc)	Enthusiasm for helping conserve the historic house and its collections for the benefit of future generations. Skills: Physically capable of bending and stretching and working from ladders. Attention to detail and patience. Able to work with back pack hoover and work on hands and knees. Tasks: Using specialist conservation cleaning equipment such as hogs hair brushes to remove dust from historic items.
What's in it for you:	Working along side a friendly team in very close contact with this fascinating historic house and its collections. Satisfaction in knowing you are contributing directly in a very hands on way to its conservation.
Why we want you:	We are looking to top up our existing team owing to gaps from people moving on to jobs elsewhere.
Training:	Training: Full training on conservation cleaning techniques and ladder training will be given. Fire tour and health and safety induction
For more information, contact:	Miranda Prescott 01202 451801 miranda.prescott@bcpcouncil.gov.uk
Notes:	Successful applicants will also be assessed during their first few weeks in the role and if we find you are not suitable to working in close quarters with fragile collections we may end the volunteer agreement.